

Dear Presidents & Secretary Generals of UEG National Member Societies
Dear Members of the UEG National Societies Forum

Standards & Guidelines repository – find best care options

Check out almost 200 evidence-based clinical practice guidelines published in English, including recommendations, position papers, and standard protocols in the field of digestive health – many of them authored by UEG Member Societies.

Sign in to myUEG, search by scientific category and find easy access to clinical standards and guidelines covering the full breadth of digestive diseases.

Newest additions cover areas such as chronic pancreatitis, eosinophilic esophagitis, paediatric GI Endoscopy and endoscopic management of Barrett's esophagus.

To suggest further publications for the repository, please use the online form <https://www.ueg.eu/myueg/guidelines/> or send us an e-mail.

Make sure to also spread this vast resource within your membership.

Updates & new publications in the pipeline – keep us informed

To support our Member Societies in the dissemination of new standards, f.e. on occasion of UEG Week, and for keeping the repository up-to-date, we invite you to share information on updates and new publications in the pipeline. Your regular feedback outlining the parameters below will be appreciated:

- Scientific areas on which updates or new publications are planned
- Anticipated publication timeline

Support for Standards & Guidelines initiatives

The UEG Activity Grants scheme supports innovative and multidisciplinary educational projects that promote collaboration, interdisciplinarity and modern teaching methods across Europe.

Deadline for applications: April 20, 2017
